MIXING CHAMBER

SYSTEM DESCRIPTION

The system focuses on encapsulating and transitioning between a state of public to private and vice versa. The two are linked by a threshold/"doorway" of sorts, allowing one to experience the different atmospheres that come with each space.

SOCIAL TRANSITIONS

The reimagination links the intimate bedroom to a public park. Activities undertaken within the respective settings differ greatly in energy and levels of social interactions. To transition between the two states, a threshold must be met via the an atrium of both indoor and outdoor, private and public spaces.
